A Letter from President of Henan University of TCM

It is good to see World Journal of Chinese Medicine, the English version of China Journal of Chinese Medicine getting published. It is a milestone for China Journal of Chinese Medicine going towards the world. Undoubtedly, it is also a memorable event in the process of the internationalization of traditional Chinese medicine.

China Journal of Chinese Medicine, being a professional journal on traditional Chinese medicine has great influence, with its impact factor ranking the second among journals in similar research fields, and makes significant contribution to the development of academic exchanges on traditional Chinese medicine researches including acupuncture and massage study.

Publishing the English version of China Journal of Chinese Medicine for promoting the development of Chinese medicine researches in the world has been our long – cherished aspirations for many years. Thanks to the kind help from Macau colleagues of TCM, two journals, namely World Journal of Chinese Medicine and Health Care of Traditional Chinese Medicine, have been approved by International Standard Serial Number Center. It is believed that the publication of World Journal of Chinese Medicine will make greater contribution towards the development of academic exchanges around the world in traditional and modern Chinese medicine researches including acupuncture and massage.
